PREFACE.

THIS volume is printed, because none like it has lately been published, and many persons wish to possess the very words of the ancient hymns which were sung by their forefathers in the early British, Scottish, Celtic, Saxon, and Norman Churches of these islands. Every member of the great English Church^a must be proud of his lineage, and look back with gratitude to God for the heritage bequeathed to him by eighteen Christian centuries, and for the treasures which his ancestors created for their own branch, or acquired from other branches of the Catholic Church. The present book gives the words of the hymns to which generation after generation of Englishmen have been accustomed in the constant worship of the Great Head of the Church. It contains also the modern foreign hymns which, composed in later times, have been translated and used by many congregations.

Had the Compilers of Hymns Ancient and Modern issued a second edition of the Rev. L. Coutier Biggs' work, the present Editor would not have attempted a task which others could have done much better. But having collected most of the original hymns, and finding that no one else was making English

Preface.

Churchmen acquainted with them, he offers this volume, with great diffidence, to those who are not possessed of the Service-books from whence they come. Many of the hymns are hidden in Liturgies, Missals, Breviaries, and costly collections. Why should not every town and village choir, man and boy, realise the truth that what is sung in church is part and portion of the great Past, which survives because the Church has authorised it, and because it is worthy to survive. Such a book may lead those who now know little of the origin of their Hymn and Prayer-books to respect more fully the piety, the learning, and the holiness of their ancestors in the Middle Ages.

Instead of printing the Hebrew text of the PSALMS, the Editor has thought it better to give the Vulgate Latin, attributed to St. Jerome, with references to his more accurate version. When Sir H. Baker wrote "The King of love my Shepherd is," the thought was derived from "Dominus regit me;" and probably other translations in H. A. and M. owe as much to the English and Latin as to the Hebrew.

The GREEK hymns are taken from Venice editions of the Service-books of the HOLY EASTERN CHURCH. Archbishop Laud endeavoured to promote the study of these volumes at Oxford, and Bishop Hacket effected this at Cambridge, by presenting copies to their respective Universities. In the University Library at Cambridge there are also well-printed modern editions of these Greek Church Office-books, and a "PANTHEKTE" published at Athens. It is much to be desired that there should be in England editions of these, and of other Eastern Liturgies and Office-books printed in Eastern towns, in order that we may be enabled to compare the ancient text with that which for three hundred years has been issuing from the Italian press.

Readers of the Greek will recollect that the stopping of the hymns in the Office-books of the Greek Church is regulated by the music.

They will also notice that the originals of several of the hymns have not yet been discovered ^b. And if they are inclined to complain that English Churchmen have been slow in their attempts to trace out the book or MSS. from which the translations were made, they will do well to bear in mind that practically Dr. Neale introduced the Greek Church and her books to the notice of Englishmen ; for though the leading Divines of the seventeenth century did their best, and in our own day Archdeacon Freeman shewed how much our Prayer-book owes to the Service-books of the Greek Church, yet even now few amongst us, ecclesiastics or laymen, know of these rich treasures, or have given due attention to their noble thoughts and stirring poetry.

Syria was the home and birthplace of the Psalms, the Canticles, and of all Christian poetry, yet the Compilers of H. A. and M. have inserted no hymns of the West or East Syriac Church, none of the Coptic or Armenian Churches, and none of the later Church of Russia.

In the LATIN HYMNS of the first fifteen centuries the text has, whenever possible, been taken from the Preface.

Service-books of the English, Irish, and Scotch Churches, that is from the Sarum, Hereford, York, and Aberdeen Breviaries, and the Durham or Anglo-Saxon Hymnary. Readers will thus continually be reminded that what we are now singing in our churches are the same ancient hymns that our ancestors sang in Saxon and Norman days, often in the same buildings, or on the same spot where their descendants are now praising God.

If any persons desire to teach their pupils the ancient plain song which was in use in former times, they will find assistance from the study of the tunes, and the remarks on them, in THE HYMNAL NOTED and in THE SARUM PSALTER and HYMNS edited by J. D. Chambers.

Hymn-writers are given in their chronological order. The Editor thought this better than an alphabetical arrangement, as readers are in consequence led to notice the different schools of writers as they successively arose within the Church ; while the continuity of each Church is kept prominently before the mind by the list of great names following one another century by century. Persons may hereby be induced to look at the productions of their Church from an historic, rather than a personal, light, and to value a hymn not only because they like its words and tune but because it is, like an Irish tower or a Norman arch, a portion of a grand past. He who knows the hymns of S. Patrick and his friends, of S. Columba and his school, of Cœdmon and King Alfred, of Bede and Alcuin, will be a more intelligent Churchman than one who has not made himself familiar with the past history and literature of these islands.

It will be seen that the chief hymns of the Parisian Breviary are of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries ; these first came into notice in England about fifty years ago, and, though historically interesting as being the last efforts of the Gallican Church to assert her independence against the domination of the Italian Church, perhaps more importance than they in themselves deserve has been assigned them.

The German, Italian, Danish, French, and Welsh hymns, and the English hymns written during the last three hundred years (the first lines of which are given), stand in a wholly different position to the older Greek and Latin hymns ; they have no Ecclesiastical authority ; they are here because the Compilers, wishing to offer a book to the English public which they thought its uninstructed taste would like, inserted them in their volume.

But assuredly all our present hymn-books must be regarded merely as pioneers preparing the way for the Anglo-Catholic Hymnal of the future, more representative, more stately, and more finely chosen than any we now possess.

A worthy Anglo-Catholic Hymnal, such an one as becomes the wide-spread Anglican Church, must be, as her Prayer-book is, the growth of years. The English nation has a foot in every land, and her Church looks back eighteen hundred years, and is looking onward to fresh conquests for her Lord and Head. She is linked with all nations, and her hymns should be the echo of all the ages, and should present the best from all her sister Churches. Herself a portion of the Catholic Church, she claims, as her heritage, the choicest of each and all the other portions of the Universal Church.

The high ideal which gained the approbation of the early Church, and which was continued and sanctioned during the Middle Ages, ought still to be maintained. There is a long line of ancestry, and we are beginning to know somewhat about it. We are more familiar than the Churchmen of the eighteenth century were with what belongs to us as Christians and as descendants of the Churchmen of former times.

Should not the Church ever give her best to her children? In the Middle Ages Latin hymns alone, thoughts and words which had sprung from Western minds, satisfied Anglicans; a little later Sternhold and Hopkins were sufficient; then Tate and Brady held sway; and the Wesleys and Cowper quickened our forefathers. Now we have a larger, but a limited, number of hymns, chosen at hap-hazard from a small portion of the Christian Church. It is to be hoped that a younger generation will enlarge the field of view, and know and sing hymns gathered from every branch of the Church Catholic.

The man who can re-people our old cathedrals and ecclesiastical buildings, and look back in imagination to the days of the Briton, the Saxon, and the Norman, has a thousand more ties to his Church than he who knows of nothing but to-day. He recalls, and it is his joy, that he is singing the same hymn that his ancestors for many generations have sung ; and it stirs his blood and warms his heart as he remembers how the earnest, the true, the loyal, the gentle, and the penitent of periods long gone by have been aroused and comforted and upheld by the same truths and devotional strains. New hymns chosen by some compiler of to-day may possibly be good, but far better is the ring of the ancient triumphal praise which has been chosen by the Church, and is endeared by associations of past history.

The future hymnal of the Church of England will, we trust, be no work of chance compilers, but the authorised selection of the Church herself. It will include the chants and canons of many an Eastern Church. We need the Eastern hymns. When Christianity arose upon the ashes of the Jewish Church she formed her early praises of the Son of David after the model left by those holy men who regarded David as their Head. The first Service-books of the Syrian, the Coptic, the Armenian, and the Greek contain the primitive hymns ; and these are the common possession of the whole Church.

It will, no doubt, contain also the great productions which the several branches of the Western Church have approved of and sanctioned, selected for modern use by the authorities of the Anglican Church.

The next source from which suitable hymns can be obtained is from the best writings of the great Churchmen of the various national Churches. Where the Liturgies fail to meet our needs, choose the noble historic hymns of each Church. We want to keep touch with the mighty dead ; we have a claim upon all that is good throughout all the ages of all the whole Catholic Church. And there are jewels lying hid and still unknown which may yet be brought to light.

If thus, as is most fitting, we place first the ancient and mediæval hymns of the Universal Church : and second, those stirring utterances of the great and good to which the Church has not as yet given her imprimatur, the modern hymns of the last three centuries come last. These are very numerous, and it is difficult to select from among the multitude. In choosing from among these a guiding principle might be, that in the public services of our Church no production should be permitted but what issued from a Churchman's heart and head.

We want our taste altered and improved, and we need to have a higher standard set before us both in the matter and the artistic form of our hymns.

If readers of the present volume are led by it to notice some excellences in H. A. and M. they have not previously thought of they will also mark its defects. It has given the Church many ancient hymns ; yet there are many gaps and deficiencies.

The work of the sixteenth century was to re-model the old Service-books into our present book of Common Prayer ; the nineteenth century having prepared the way, it will be the glory of the twentieth century to widen the circle of our hymns and to bestow an ampler hymnal upon the great Pan-Anglican Church.

The Editor desires to thank most warmly those friends who have given him constant and valuable help ; and to express here his gratitude for their kindness. He must ask his readers to be indulgent to his mistakes, which may be numerous owing to his inability to see.

He will be much obliged if those who notice errors would point them out to him, that they may be corrected, as the object of the book is to assist in procuring a more worthy and more perfect hymn-book in the future for the Church of England.

Gustate, et videte quoniam suavis est Dominus :

Mane videbitur, umbra fugabitur, ordo patebit ;
Mane nitens erit, et bona qui gerit, Ille nitebit ;

Pars mea, Rex meus, in proprio Deus ipse decore
Visus amabitur, atque videbitur Auctor in ore.

O bona patria, num tua præmia plena tenebo ?

Hymnus est angelicus.

Hic est ordo mundi decus,
Omnis carnis Judex æquus,
Novæ petra gratiæ,
Ab æterno præelectus,
Cujus floret Architectus
Ad culmen Ecclesiæ.

Hi præclari Nazarei
Bella crucis et tropæi
Mundo narrant gloriam,
Sic dispensant verbum Dei,
Quod nox nocti, lux diei,
Indicant scientiam.

Onus leve, jugum mite
Proponentes, semen vitæ
Mundi spargunt terminis ;
Germen promit terra culta,
Fœneratur fruge multa
Fides Dei-hominis.

Twelfth Century.

Hi sunt templi fundamentum,
Vivus lapis et cæmentum
 Ligans ædificium ;
Hi sunt portæ civitatis,

Horum nutu cedat error
Crescat fides, absit terror
 Finalis sententiæ.
Ut soluti a delictis
Sociemur benedictis
 Ad tribunal gloriæ.

Stabat Mater dolorosa^b.

Translated by Rev. E. CASWALL.

No. 117. At the Cross her station keeping.

Stabat Mater dolorosa
Juxta crucem lacrymosa,
Dum pendebat Filius.
Cujus animam gementem
Contristatam et dolentem
Pertransivit gladius.

O quam tristis et afflicta
Fuit illa benedicta
Mater Unigeniti !
Quæ mærebat et dolebat,
Pia mater, dum videbat
Nati pœnas inclyti.

Quis est homo qui non fleret,
Christi matrem si videret
In tanto supplicio ?
Quis posset non contristari
Piam matrem contemplari
Dolentem cum Filio ?

Pro peccatis suæ gentis
Vidit Jesum in tormentis

Vidit suum dulcem Natum
Morientem desolatum,
Dum emisit spiritum.

Et post transitoria
In perenni mereamur
Exultare gloriâ.

OFFICE BOOKS FOR HOLY COMMUNION.

LARGE portions of our present "Order for Holy Communion" are derived from Eastern Liturgies, especially from the "Euchologion" of the Greek Church. This contains four Hymns, the "Trishagion;" the "Cherubic;" the "Triumphal" or Ter-Sanctus, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts:" and the "Angelic Hymn," or the "Gloria in excelsis," 'Glory be to God on high.' We retain the last two in our service.

In the early British and Irish Church, the Brito-Celtic Church, the Liturgies used were derived from the East, Ephesus : as were those of Early France and Spain, the Gallican and Mozarabic. These were quite independent of Rome.

When, in 597 A.D., St. Augustin came to convert the heathen Anglo-Saxons, he brought the Roman Liturgy. By degrees this form was altered by the more ancient British Liturgies, and began to prevail in England, Scotland, and Ireland, different parts of these countries having their peculiar "Uses." The chief office books then were,

The Sacramentary, or the portions said by the celebrating Priest.

Office Books for Holy Communion.

The Evangelarium, containing the Gospels.

The Epistolarium, or Book of the Epistles.

The Graduale, the musical portion sung by the choir, or joined in by the congregation.

These were collected about the eleventh century into a single volume, which our ancestors called a "Missal." Both here and abroad most provinces and many dioceses had each their own Missal. Thus in England there grew up the Sarum, the Hereford, the York, the Bangor, and other Missals.

In France there were many old Gallican Liturgies, modified by the Roman, which was at last enforced upon the Gallican Church.

In Germany there were the "Mentz," the "Xanten," and others.

In Italy, the Roman, and others.

The EUCHOLOGION.—The Order for Holy Communion of the Anglican Church retains from this the Hymns Ἅγιος, ἅγιος, ἅγιος, Κύριος Σαβαώθ and Δόξα ἐν ὑψίστοις θεῷ. H. A. and M. has no hymn from the Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom, but Hymn 491 is from the ἀκολουθία τοῦ μεγάλου σχήματος, or Service on investing a Monk with the full monkish dress.

ANTIPHONARIUM.—The Antiphonary of Bangor in Ireland has a short Anthem, like one of our Anglican offertory sentences. The MS. of this is of the seventh century, and is now at Milan. It contains hymns and portions of the day and night hours, amongst others the "Sancti venite," sung when the Priests communicate. Hymn 313.

It is desirable that more Liturgical hymns from Eastern Offices should be translated, and made known to English Churchmen.

WESTERN LITURGIES.

The Salisbury Holy Communion Office, or Sarum Missal, has Hymns 98, 131, 156, 310, 398.

The Hereford Missal, Hymns 97, 117, 131, 156, 310.

The York Missal, Hymns 131, 156, 310, 434.

The Paris Missal, Hymns 49, 64, 96, 97, 98, 117, 130, 131, 156, 310, 398, 434.

The Roman Missal, Hymns 64, 97, 98, 117, 156, 157, 310, 312, 398.

The Mentz Missal, Hymn 440.

The Missal of Xanten, near Dusseldorf, Hymn 159.

OTHER OFFICE BOOKS.

THE HOLY EASTERN, or GREEK, CHURCH has

The HOROLOGION, containing the Services for Midnight, Dawn, and the First Hour; for the Third, the Sixth, and the Ninth Hours; for Evensong and After-Supper. This book arose from the worship of the Primitive Christians, and was probably modelled on parts of the Jewish Services. Our daily Morning and Evening Service was largely taken from this. There are many fine hymns, those in H. A. and M. are only 18, 21, 474, 490.

Office Books.

The TRIODION, or offices from the beginning of the year till Easter Eve, Hymns 91, 491.

The PENTEKOSTARION, or services from Easter to All Saints, Hymns 132, 133.

The PARAKLETIKE, containing the Sunday and Week-day Troparia, Hymns 254, 285, 423, 491.

The OKTOECHUS, or the Sunday Troparia only, Hymn 254.

The MENAION, in twelve volumes, one for each month, commemorates the Saints, Hymns 60, 224, 439, 441, 460.

The Compilers have strangely neglected the numerous hymns of the Coptic, the Syrian, the Nestorian, the Armenian, the Abyssinian, and the Russian Churches.

THE BRITISH AND CELTIC CHURCH.—The BRITO-CELTIC Church had many hymns; St. Patrick's own Hymn, the "Lorica;" those about him by St. Fiacc and St. Sechnall; St. Finnan's Hymn, Colman's Hymn, St. Columba's, St. Hilary's, and others. But the Compilers have inserted none of these Hymns of our early forefathers.

Office Books.

On reaching Saxon times we find that the Italian books brought into the South of England were modified by the Office books of the British Church.

Thus different "Uses" prevailed in the various provinces of Great Britain and Ireland till the eleventh or twelfth century, when the Office books of the Anglican Church became more settled.

There are the following hymns in

THE ANGLO-SAXON HYMNARY.—This is printed by the Surtees Society from a MS. at Durham, Volume 23. The hymns are in Latin, with an Anglo-Saxon translation. 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 57, 75, 82, 85, 86, 87, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 125, 126, 128, 141, 144, 150, 152, 153, 157, 163, 296, 347, 396, 430, 442, 444, 449, 452, 455, 483, 486, 509.

Our Anglican ancestors had their hymns with their prayers in their "Breviaries," or daily Morning and Evening Prayer-books. In what some people call "the dark ages," our Church thus provided her English, Scotch, and Irish children with many bright hymns to sing.

In Great Britain and Ireland there were the Sarum, Hereford, York, and Aberdeen Breviaries.

In France, the Paris, the Le Mans, the Cluniac, the Meaux Breviaries.

Office Books.

In Spain, the Mozarabic.

In Germany, the Stuttgart, the Magdeburg.

In Belgium, the Liege.

In Italy, the Roman, and others.

THE SARUM BREVIARY.—The Liturgy of Ephesus, possibly of St. John, coming at an early date from its original home in Asia Minor, was the source of the Liturgies and Offices used in France, Spain, and England.

In Spain it became the Mozarabic ; in France the Gallican ; in England the British. But St. Augustin of Canterbury brought the Italian Service books into England when he founded the Anglo-Saxon Church. In 1085 St. Osmund, Bishop of Salisbury, promoted uniformity by compiling the Sarum Breviary. This was till the sixteenth century the "Custom" and model ritual book of the South of England. At the Reformation our Prayer-book was largely formed from it and the Eastern Office books.

The Romanist, or Papal party as distinguished from the Anglicans, were bidden by the Pope to use the Roman Liturgy after the establishment of the Anglo-Roman schism by Pope Pius V. in 1570.

THE SALISBURY PRAYER-BOOK, or SARUM BREVIARY, contains Hymns 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 57, 68, 75, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 105, 113, 125, 126, parts 1, 2, and 3, 128, 141, 144, 145, 150, 152, 153, 157, 163, 178, parts 1, 2, and 3, 232, 239, 309, parts 1 and 2, 311, parts 1 and 2, 347, 396, 442, 449, 452, 455, 486, 509.

THE HEREFORD BREVIARY contains some Hymns not in the Sarum. 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 34, 38, 56, 57, 63, 82, 141, 157, 163, 177, 178, 232, 239, 309, 311, 396, 430, 442, 444, 449, 452, 455.

THE YORK BREVIARY, Hymns 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 34, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 56, 57, 63, 75, 85, 86, 89, 90, 95, 97, 100, 113, 125, 126, 128, 141, 150, 152, 153, 157, 163, 232, 309, 311, 396, 430, 442, 444, 449, 452, 455.

THE ABERDEEN BREVIARY, Hymns 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 57, 63, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 113, 125, 126, parts 1, 2, and 3, 128, 141, 144, 145, 150, 152, 153, 157, 177, 396, 442, 449, 452, 455.

THE CAHORS BREVIARY, Hymn 592.

THE AMIENS BREVIARY, Hymn 536.

THE LE MANS BREVIARY, Hymn 34.

THE CLUNIAN BREVIARY, Hymn 66.

THE PARISIAN BREVIARY.—As the Hymns from this in H. A. and M. are chiefly modern, they are given under the eighteenth century hymns, page 231.

THE MEAUX BREVIARY, Hymn 72.

Office Books.

THE MOZARABIC BREVIARY.—This is the old national service book of the Spanish Church, derived from Ephesus and the East. It is, as its name implies, the Prayer and Office book of the Christians who lived among the Arabians or Moors. In 1070 the Roman "Use" was forced upon Spain ; but the Mozarabic Liturgy lingered in use in a few localities, and to prevent its entire extinction, Cardinal Ximenes founded a Chapel at Toledo in the sixteenth century for the maintenance of the ancient worship, and reprinted the Mozarabic Service books. The Mozarabic Liturgy is still in use in the Chapel at Toledo, and in a few other churches in Spain. Hymns 104, 135, 296, 602.

THE STUTTGARD BREVIARY, Hymns 86, 295.

THE MAGDEBURG BREVIARY, Hymns 82, 104.

THE LIEGE BREVIARY, Hymn 179.

THE ROMAN BREVIARY.—This grew up gradually in Italy. In 1070 Pope Gregory VII. rearranged it. In 1556 under Pope Pius V. it was again reordered and reformed. In 1568 the Pope commended its use to the clergy of the Roman Church all over the world. In 1602 Clement VIII. again reformed it. In 1631 Urban VIII. had much of the language and metres revised. These several changes gave rise to the saying, "Accessit Latinitas, Recessit

Office Books.

Pietas;" " Reformed, Deformed;" as may be seen by comparing the old unreformed hymns with the modern reformed Roman Breviary hymns, and the Breviarium S.O.P., Sancti Ordinis Predicatorum, with the amended hymns. Hymns 38, 85, 97, 100, 101, 102, 127, 129, 180, 232, 396, 457, 459, 616.

The Church of Bohemia produced in the middle ages several hymns in the Bohemian language; the Authors are not known, but in 1531 M. Weiss translated into the German language Hymn 136.

O Deus ! ego amo Te^k.

Translated by Rev. E. CASWALL.

No. 106. My God I love Thee, not because.

O Deus ! ego amo Te ;
Nec amo Te ut salves me,
Aut quia non amantes Te
Æterno punis igne.

Tu, Tu, mi Jesu ! totum me
Amplexus es in cruce,
Tulisti clavos, lanceam,
Multamque ignominiam,

Innumeros dolores,
Sudores, et angores,
Ac mortem, et hæc propter me,
Ac pro me peccatore.

Cur igitur non amem Te,
O Jesu amantissime ?
Non ut in cælo salves me,
Aut ne æternum damnes me ;

Nec præmii ullius spe,
Sed sicut Tu amasti me,
Sic amo et amabo Te,

Solum quia Rex meus es,
Et solum quia Deus es.

Translated by W. B. COLLYER, 1812.

No. 52. Great God ! what do I see and hear ?

Es ist gewisslich an der Zeit,
Dass Gottes Sohn wird kommen,
Als Richter hoch in Herrlichkeit
Den Bösen und den Frommen ;
Dann wird das Lachen werden theu'r
Wann Alles wird vergeh'n im Feu'r,
Wie Petrus davon schreibt.

Posaunen wird man hören geh'n
In aller Welten Ende ;
D'rauf ringsum werden auferstehn
Die Todten gar behende ;
Die aber noch am Leben sind,
Die wird des Herrn Wort geschwind
Verwandeln und erneuen.

Ein Buch wird abgelesen bald, •
Darinnen steht geschrieben,
Was alle Menschen jung und alt,
Auf Erden je getrieben
Woraus gewisslich Jedermann
Wird hören, was er hat gethan
In seinem ganzen Leben.

Ringwald, Bartholomew.

O weh dem Menschen, welcher haf
Des Herren Wort verachtet,
Und nur auf Erden früh und spat
Nach grossem Gut getrachtet !
Er wird fürwahr gar schlimm besteh'n,
Und mit dem Satan müssen geh'n
Von Christo in die Hölle.

O Jesu, hilf zur selben Zeit
Durch Deine heil'gen Wunden
Dass ich im Buch der Seligkeit
Werd' eingezeichnet funden !
Daran ich dann auch zweifle nicht,
Denn Du hast ja den Feind gericht't,
Und meine Schuld bezahlet.

Derhalben mein Fürsprecher sey,
Wann Du nun wirst erscheinen,
Und lies mich aus dem Buche frei,
Darinnen steh'n die Deinen,
Auf dass ich sammt den Brüdern mein
Mit Dir geh in den Himmel ein
Den Du uns hast erworben.

O Jesu Christ, Du machst es lang
Mit Deinem jüngsten Tage !
Den Menschen wird auf Erden bang
Von vieler Noth und Plage ;
Komm doch, Komm doch, Du Richter gross
Und mach uns bald in Gnaden los Von allem Uebel. Amen.

Sævo dolorum turbine
Jactatur, atris obrutus
Pœnis, acerba sustinens,
Redemptor affixus cruci.

Pedes manusque horribili
Clavi cruentant vulnere;
Cor, vultus, artus, pectora
Sacro redundant sanguine.

Flet, orat, et clamans obit;
Cor matris ictum concidit;
Heu mater! heu Fili! dolor
Ingrata frangat pectora.

Montes, sepulcra, saxaque
Scinduntur; arva, flumina,

THE PARISIAN BREVIARY.—Ephesus was the Mother Church which sent Christianity to Gaul, and provided the converts with her Prayer-book and ritual. The Gallican “Uses” differed in slight points from one another in the various provinces, but all held their own as they best could against Rome, till at last she crushed them into insignificance, and enforced the Roman rite.

In the Paris Breviary was displayed one of the last efforts of the National Gallican Church to maintain her independence. The chief hymns from this book found in H. A. and M. were written in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and are therefore modern. The Edition of 1736 gives the initials of the Authors.

Hymns 13, 33, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 48, 50, 54, 58, 65, 70, 71, 77, 78, 83, 84, 103, 146, 151, 175, 190, 208, 262, 273, 395, 405, 407, 414, 422, 431, 432, 433, 443, 447, 451, 458, 479, 487, 489, 496.

Angethan mit weissem Kleide,

Und veraltet nimmermehr?—
Wo sind diese kommen her?—

Es sind die, so wohl gerungen
Für des grossen Gottes Ehr'
Haben Welt und Tod bezwungen,
Folgend nicht dem Sünderheer,
Die erlanget in dem Krieg
Durch des Herren Arm den Sieg.

Es sind Zweige eines Stammes,
Der uns Huld und Heil gebracht,
Haben in dem Blut des Lammes
Ihre Kleider hell gemacht;
Nun sind sie erlöst vom Leid
Und geschmückt in Ehrenkleid.

Es sind die, so viel erlitten ;
Trübsal, Schmerzen, Angst, und Noth ;
Im Gebet auch oft gestritten
Mit dem hochbelobten Gott ;
Nun hat dieser Kampf ein End,
Gott hat all ihr Leid gewendt.

Es sind die, so stets erschienen
Hier als Priester vor dem Herrn,
Tag und Nacht bereit, zu dienen,
Leib und Seel geopfert gern ;
Nunmehr stehn sie All' herum
Vor dem Stuhl im Heiligthum.

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan !

Wer auch nicht reichlich ernten kann

Den liebt Er doch nicht minder,

Er zieht das Herz

Doch himmelwärts,

Obgleich wir oft auf Erden,

Beim Mangel traurig werden.

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan !

Wer darf Sein Walten richten,

Wenn Er, noch eh'man ernten kann

Den Segen will vernichten ?

Weil Er allein

Der Schatz will sein,

So nimmt Er andre Güter

Und bessert die Gemüther.

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan !

Est-ce vous que je vois, ô mon Maître adorable !
Pâle, abattu, sanglant, victime de douleurs ?
Fallait-il à ce prix racheter un coupable
Qui même à votre sang ne mêla pas ses pleurs !

Judas vous livre aux Juifs dans sa fureur extrême ;
Peut-il à cet excès, le traître, vous haïr ?
Comme lui, mille fois je dis que je vous aime,
Et je ne rougis point, ingrat de vous trahir !

On vous couvre d'affronts, on vous raille, on vous
frappe ;

Mépris, soufflets, crachats, tombent sur vous, Seigneur ;
Et pas un mot de plainte à votre cœur n'échappe :
Patience divine, adorable douceur !

Quand je vois mon Sauveur, mon chef et mon modèle,
Ceint d'un bandeau sanglant d'épines, de douleurs,
Combien dois-je rougir, lâche, ingrat, infidèle,
D'aimer à me plonger dans le sein des douleurs !

OLIVERS, Thomas. 1725—1799. A Wesleyan Preacher.

No. 601. The God of Abraham praise.

Olivers is said to have taken this hymn from the Hebrew, from the "Yigdal" of Maimonides. This "Song of Praise" is to be found in a Service-book used by the Polish and German Jews. Maimonides, 1135—1204, a philosophical Talmudist, was born at Cordova, and fled to Cairo, where he became Physician to the Sultan.

The first words of the "Yigdal" :—

יְגִדַּל אֱלֹהִים חַי וְיִשְׁתַּבַּח נְמֻצָּה

וְיֵאֵין עֵת אֶל מְצִיאוֹתָיו :

"Great be the Living God, and He is to be praised ; He Existeth, and there is no time to His Existence," may have given a suggestion to Olivers ; the remaining lines of either hymn have not much in common.

Wem in Leidenstagen ^k.

Translated by F. E. Cox.

No. 286. O let him, whose sorrow.

Wem in Leidenstagen
Aller Trost steht fern,
Der vertrau sein Klagen
Seinem Gott und Herrn.

Er blickt in die Kammer,
Wo der Dulder weint,
Wenn in seinem Jammer
Er verlassen scheint.

Gott bleibt nicht verborgen
Was dich trübt und quält,
Er kennt deine Sorgen
Und weiss was dir fehlt.

Richte deine Blicke
Nach Ihm himmelswärts,
Wenn in Missgeschicke
Zagend ist dein Herz.

Auch dir wird Er lindern
Dein verborgnes Leid,
Der stets seinen Kindern
Helfend ist bereit.

^k From Bunsen's Gesang-und-Gebetbuch.

Nicht der süßen Freuden

*Beim frühen Morgenlicht*¹.

No. 303. When morning gilds the skies.

Beim frühen Morgenlicht

Erwacht mein Herz und spricht,

Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

¹ This Hymn is taken from a collection of Fränkische Lieder made by Baron Von Ditzfurth, a Lutheran. He learnt this in Bavaria: it is probably a Lutheran Hymn of the eighteenth century.

Ditfurth's Collection.

Die Feierylocke schallt
Mit heilliger Gewalt,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Was tönt der schönste Klang,
Der lieblichste Gesang ?

Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
In Gottes heil'gem Haus
Sprech ich vor allem aus,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Ihm, meinem höchsten Gut,
Sing ich in Liebesgluth,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Bei jedem Anbeginn
Ruf ich mit Herz und Sinn,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Mein Herz, das schlummernd wacht,
Seufzt in der tiefsten Nacht,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Ja, meine Seele spricht,
Wenn auch das Herz schon erticht,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Nie wecket Ueberdruss
Der wundersüsse Gruss,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Wenn Traurigkeit mich plagt,
So ruf ich unverzagt,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Ist mir die Welt erbost,
So giebt das Lied mir Trost,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

. Nineteenth Century.

In Not und bitterm Schmerz
Sing ich mit Mund und Herz,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Die Macht der Hölle flieht
Vor diesem süßen Lied,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Bedrückt mich Sündenschuld,
Seufz ich zu Jesu Huld,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Das lieblichste Getön
Ist in des Himmels Höhn,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Des Vaters ew'gem Wort
Ertönet ewig dort,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Ihr Menschenkinder all,
Singt laut im Jubelschall,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Rings auf dem Erdenkreis
Ertöne Ihm zum Preis,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Singt, Himmel, Erd, und Meer,
Und aller Engel Heer,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Es schalle weit und breit
In alle Ewigkeit,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

^a For Lay Helpers : From Spitta's "Psalter und Harfe."

Nineteenth Century.

Du hängest Herz und Blicke
An den geliebten Herrn,
In keinem Augenblicke
Bist du Ihm fremd und fern.
Er braucht nicht laut zu mahnen,
Du folgst Ihm froh und still,
Die Liebe weiss zu ahnen,
Was der Geliebte will.

Wie ist dein Loos erfreulich,
Wie geht es dir so gut !
Drum dienstest du so treulich
Dem Herrn mit Gut und Blut ;
In gut und bösen Tagen,
Gemach und Ungemach,
In Freuden und in Plagen
Gehst du Ihm folgsam nach.

Wie flieht die Zeit von hinnen
Im Dienst des Herrn so schnell,
Und eh' wir uns besinnen
Sind wir an Ort und Stell',
Und dringen glaubenskühner
In's Vaterhaus hinein ;
Es soll ja auch der Diener
Stets bei dem Herren seyn:

NOTE ON SOME UNDISCOVERED GREEK HYMNS.

THE Editor will be glad to know where the Greek words are to be found of the hymn on page 90, "Art thou weary," κόπον τε καὶ καματόν. Dr. Neale translated this from a "dateless Constantinopolitan ΟΚΤΟΕCHUS," and calls it an "Idiomela in the week of the first oblique tone," that is, ἤχος πλ: α'.

Also of the hymn on page 69, "Christian, dost thou see them?" οὐ γὰρ βλέπεις. Dr. Neale calls this "Stichera for the second week of The Great Fast," and it should be found in some ancient Triodion in the second week of Lent.

Where, too, is the Greek of "Fierce was the wild billow," page 54, ζοφερᾶς τρικυμίας? These are "Stichera for a Sunday of the first tone," or τῇ κυριακῇ ἤχος α', to be discovered in some PARAKLETIKE.

Again, "Those eternal bowers," an "Idiomela for ALL SAINTS," that is, The First Sunday after Pentekost.

These hymns have been long in use in the English Church without any one being able to point to the Greek book or MS. from which they were translated; so that some persons have ventured to fancy and suggest that Dr. Neale created them from his own imagination. It is not, however, likely that, had he done so, he would have included them among his acknowledged translations from the Greek, have given them Greek headings, and assigned to them imaginary Greek tones. Where he has merely taken thoughts from the Greek original his rule appears to be to give no Greek heading ; where he translates the Greek lines he gives the Greek first words as a heading.

Note.

If search be made for these in Office books and MSS. of the Greek and Russian Churches they will probably be found.

If some Eastern Churchman would edit the Service-books of his Church, with names, dates, and references, and make it by omissions suitable for Western readers, Englishmen would be better able to appreciate the striking grandeur of the hymns and prayers of the Greek Church.

And were some English scholars to publish our Common Prayer-book in Ecclesiastical Greek, giving dates, references, and names of authors, shewing how much we are indebted to the Greek Prayer-book, they would enable us to realise more than we now do that our British and Irish Churches have a common heritage with the Greek Church ; and if such a volume were spread abroad among Easterns it would prove of service in making the doctrine, the ritual, and the origin of the Anglican Church better known and valued by members of the Greek Communion.
